"There has to be a SAFE way for young girls to connect with each other online." That was Denise Restauri's call to action when she and her 13-year-old-daughter, Ally, launched Call4Ally.com (now AllyKatzz.com) ... The only safe, 100% monitored social networking site for girls ages 9-15.

AllyKatzz is making the world a better place for young girls by doing something different, something better. On AllyKatzz, girls blog about things important in their worlds, but they do not post pictures of themselves, their e-mail addresses, cell phone numbers, or any other personally identifiable information. We hire college students to read every word and review every picture before posting – it's older girls helping younger girls stay safe.

Please feel free to contact Denise with any questions or thoughts you have. Her email address is denise@allykatzz.com

AllyKatzz agrees that all personal information given below will remain confidential as based on AllyKatzz Privacy Policy and Terms and Conditions. We promise, mailing addresses will be used ONLY to send sample products.
